Wiki y bases del conocimiento

DokuWiki

The screenshot shows the DokuWiki homepage in a browser window. The browser's address bar contains 'dokuwiki'. The page header includes navigation links for Wiki, Forum, IRC, Bugs, and Translate, along with a search box. Below the header, there are buttons for 'Show pagesource', 'Old revisions', 'Recent changes', and another search box. The main content area features the title 'DokuWiki' and a description: 'DokuWiki is a standards compliant, simple to use Wiki, mainly aimed at creating documentation of any kind. It is targeted at developer teams, workgroups and small companies. It has a simple but powerful syntax which makes sure the datafiles remain readable outside the Wiki and eases the creation of structured texts. All data is stored in plain text files – no database is required.' To the left of the text is an icon of a document with a pencil and a green arrow. Below the description is a 'Download' section with a link to 'http://www.splitbrain.org/go/dokuwiki'. Further down is a 'Read More' section with a link to 'www.dokuwiki.org'. The page also includes a 'Table of Contents' sidebar with links for 'Download', 'Read More', and 'Copyright'. At the bottom, there are several sections with lists of links: 'About DokuWiki', 'Installing DokuWiki', 'Using DokuWiki', 'Customizing DokuWiki', and 'DokuWiki Feedback and Community'.

DokuWiki is a standards compliant, simple to use Wiki, mainly aimed at creating documentation of any kind. It is targeted at developer teams, workgroups and small companies. It has a simple but powerful syntax which makes sure the datafiles remain readable outside the Wiki and eases the creation of structured texts. All data is stored in plain text files – no database is required.

Trac

The screenshot shows a Mozilla Firefox browser window titled "My Project - Trac". The address bar shows the URL "http://localhost:8080/?notheme". The browser tabs include "My Project - Trac", "My Project - Trac", and "Southeast Coastal Ocean O...". The Trac interface features the logo "trac" with the tagline "Integrated SCM & Project Management". A search bar is located in the top right. Navigation links include "Login", "Preferences", "Help/Guide", "About Trac", "Start Page", "Index", "History", and "Last Change". A menu bar contains "Wiki", "Timeline", "Roadmap", "View Tickets", and "Search". The main content area displays a "Welcome to Trac 0.11dev" message, explaining that Trac is a minimalistic approach to web-based management of software projects. It mentions that all aspects are designed to help developers write great software while staying out of the way. The page is editable, and it provides instructions on how to use "trac-admin" to configure Trac and mentions "TracGuide" as a good place to start. The footer of the page includes "Starting Points" with a list of links: "TracGuide", "The Trac project", "Trac FAQ", and "TracSupport". The browser status bar at the bottom shows "Done", "FoxyProxy: Disabled", and "Adblock".

Welcome to Plone

by John Smith — last modified 2007-06-09 01:55

Congratulations! You have successfully installed Plone.

If you're seeing this instead of the web site you were expecting, the owner of this web site has just installed Plone. Do not contact the Plone Team or the Plone mailing lists about this.

Get Started

Before you start exploring your newly created Plone site, please do the following:

1. Make sure you are logged in as an admin/manager user (you should see a Site Setup link in the top right corner)
2. Set up your mail server (Plone needs a valid SMTP server to verify users and send out password reminders)
3. Specify an owner for the site (From address on mail, contact address)

After that, we suggest you do one or more of the following:

- Find out What's new in Plone 2.5
- Read the documentation, especially the What documentation should I read and Server setup recommendations
